News from the Illinois Department of Veterans Affairs ★ Volume 5, Issue 6 ★ June 2025

★ Message from IDVA Director Terry Prince

As the Director of the Illinois Department of Veterans Affairs, entrusted with ensuring veterans in Illinois have access to their earned benefits and services, and as a Navy veteran, I am concerned about the recent announcement by the USDVA that may compromise or deny services to veterans based on their marital status or political affiliation. Please read the press release issued by Governor JB Pritzker (following this article) for Illinois' full response to these policies. Rest assured, IDVA Veteran Service

Officers are equipped to assist veterans in obtaining their earned benefits while also available to support veterans who have been denied assistance or care due to discrimination. Please contact the IDVA hotline at 1-800-437-9824 to report any such incidents. IDVA continues to monitor all federal policies that may impact Illinois veterans and will share relevant information as necessary.

In June, we celebrated our valued Veterans Nursing Assistants Certified (VNAC) and the 250th Birthday of the United States Army, including many of our IDVA team who are Army Veterans. We are grateful for the service of our VNACs and Army veterans. The Women Veterans Program honored Women Veterans Day and continues to feature the 25 Women Veterans Leaders in 2025. We are also supporting the Military Women's Memorial's #StriveFor500 campaign to register at least 500 military women in 2025 to preserve their powerful stories in the National Digital Repository.

June was PTSD Awareness Month. An estimated 12 million individuals in the United States suffer from PTSD. Many of us have witnessed firsthand the horrible impact on the quality of life for veterans, survivors of sexual assault, serious accidents, natural disasters, or other traumatic events, and their families. Some of us have or are experiencing the debilitating consequences of PTSD. Today, more than ever, we are aware of the silent wounds of war and are offering treatment and support for those who are suffering. For those of you with PTSD, there is support for you. For those by the side of those with PTSD, you are not alone. You can learn more about the resources available to you here: <https://www.ptsd.va.gov/understand/awareness/index.asp>. Please read on to learn more about all these exciting happenings at IDVA.

Thank you for staying connected to IDVA.

Sincerely,

Terry Prince, U.S. Navy Veteran and IDVA Director

Press Release Issued by Governor JB Pritzker on June 20th

Gov. Pritzker Takes Action to Protect Veterans from Healthcare Discrimination

Governor directs state agencies to activate resources for veterans amid reports of the Trump administration threatening veterans' healthcare

CHICAGO — In the wake of reports that the Trump administration is proposing rules that would allow VA providers to deny military veterans healthcare based on their marital status and political affiliation, Governor JB Pritzker has directed key state agencies to take every available action to protect veterans' access to care.

"Our nation's heroes put their lives on the line to protect our way of life, and we owe them every bit of care and support we can offer," said Governor JB Pritzker. "The Trump administration wants to deny our veterans healthcare because of who they love or vote for – and the State of Illinois will do everything in our power to protect the benefits they have earned."

At the direction of Governor Pritzker, the State of Illinois is already taking action to push back against these reported new VA discriminatory measures, including providing resources to veterans and fighting to ensure their healthcare remains protected. These efforts include:

- The Illinois Department of Financial and Professional Regulation (IDFPR) issued a statement reminding licensed medical professionals that it will continue to enforce anti-discrimination laws. IDFPR has also begun internal monitoring for complaints or reports related to this issue so that they are ready to respond swiftly and appropriately. IDFPR will continue encouraging patients and consumers who experience discrimination or medical misconduct to file complaints by following the instructions on IDFPR's website.
- The Illinois Department of Veterans Affairs (IDVA) issued a notice to its Veterans Services Officers requesting that they continue to stand ready to meet with or take calls from Illinois Veterans with any reports of discrimination. IDVA will also reach out to veterans' organizations and other partners to share resources about reporting discrimination.
- The Illinois Department of Human Rights (IDHR) will continue to monitor and enforce laws protecting people from discrimination, including on the basis of religion, race, military status, or marital status. All Illinoisans are protected by the Illinois Human Rights Act, including in the context of public accommodations, such as healthcare and government services. While IDHS has limited authority over federal facilities, they encourage anyone encountering potential discrimination to file a charge with IDHR so that the State can explore all possible remedies.

IDVA Veteran Service Officers across the state are positioned to provide assistance to any veteran facing discrimination or denial of care. Illinoisans are encouraged to contact the IDVA hotline at 1-800-437-9824 to report any such incidents.

"Women Veterans have often been underserved and overlooked when it comes to care that we need with the VA health system," said Representative Stephanie Kifowit (D-Oswego). "Policy changes like this will have chilling effects on victims of Military Sexual Trauma seeking care, along with other types of healthcare services that are unique to Women Veterans. As we just recognized June 12th as Women Recognition Day in our nation, it is disappointing that policy changes like these will roll back the recognition and services provided in our VA healthcare that so many of my Veteran sisters have been advocating for."

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ Press Release

"Our country has a sacred contract with veterans to take care of them when they return home. Service members swore the same oath to defend our country regardless of their marital status or political views," said Terry Prince, Director of the Illinois Department of Veterans Affairs. "In Illinois, we are deeply committed to protecting our veterans from discrimination and providing access to the best health care our nation has to offer. Illinois will continue to fight every day to give every veteran the benefits they earned."

"To deny care for our military veterans who have risked their lives for this country is unacceptable." said President of the Illinois State Medical Society Richard C. Anderson, M.D. "As physicians, we have a legal and ethical duty to treat patients – no matter what their background. Our veterans have earned and deserve their benefits, especially healthcare, without barriers to access."

Veteran Nursing Assistant Certified (VNAC) Week: June 12th-18th

Throughout Certified Nursing Assistants Week, or at IDVA, "Veteran Nursing Assistant Certified (VNAC) Week, we celebrated our frontline caregivers. They provide compassionate care to veterans in our five skilled residential Veterans' Homes. As a major part of the IDVA care team, we rely on them to ensure that we exceed the expectations of the veterans entrusted to our care. From their daily interactions, they may be the first to notice any physical or emotional changes, while working alongside the nurses and physicians to address these concerns. We know that many of our veterans and their families become a major part of their lives. They become a family who relies on them for their well-being, including their daily care, a friendly voice, and social interaction.

This year's theme is "We are the Champions", and indeed, they are most definitely our champions.

Thank you for choosing to serve those who served. We are grateful. Enjoy these photos of our amazing teams.

Ashley Tubruan
U.S. Navy Veteran

Ashley Tubruan, U.S. Navy veteran, is a dedicated advocate, leader, and recent graduate of the University of Illinois Chicago School of Law, where she is focusing on the rights and well-being of veterans. Following her military service, Ashley became a police officer in suburban Chicago, where she became a leader on the force's Crisis Intervention Team and Crisis

Negotiation Unit. During law school, Ashley completed three semesters with the school's pro bono VA legal clinic for veterans. Her leadership and advocacy were instrumental in helping pass legislation to expand Illinois' definition of a "veteran," thereby increasing access to housing and healthcare for previously excluded groups.

Ashley plans to continue staying active in the veteran community and focusing on Military Sexual Trauma (MST) resources, counseling, and support groups in a private and safe environment. Ashley helped launch the national campaign "Face the Fight" in D.C. to assist veterans in crisis. Additionally, she plans to share her experiences with MST and help others gain confidence to succeed.

★ 25 Illinois Women Veteran Leaders of 2025 ★

Tamala Anderson
U.S. Air Force Veteran

U.S. Air Force Veteran Tamala Anderson's trailblazing leadership brought a new voice to the table and opened doors for other women to step into roles of influence and impact within the veteran support system. She remains a fierce and unwavering voice for equity, recognition, and progress for women who have served.

With over 15 years of experience as a Veterans Service Officer at the DeKalb County Veterans Assistance Commission since October 2008, she has managed more than 5,000 veteran claims, which have changed lives through dedicated support and expert advocacy. Tamala broke barriers by becoming the Superintendent of a Veterans Assistance Commission, an achievement that was once considered nearly impossible for a woman. She remains a fierce and unwavering voice for equity, recognition, and progress for women who have served.

In the Air Force, she served for the Headquarters Office of Special Investigations and was a Military Training Instructor.

Margo Watson, IDVA's Women Veterans Program Coordinator was the keynote speaker for the National Women Veterans United (NWWU) event honoring the service and contributions of women veterans. The event, held at the SGT Simone A. Robinson Center, brought together veterans, community members, and supporters to recognize the dedication and sacrifices of women in the Armed Forces.

Margo's message celebrated the strength, resilience, and continued leadership of women veterans in both military and civilian life. Women veterans shared their personal stories, discussing both the challenges they've faced and the triumphs they've achieved throughout and after their military service. Their experiences highlighted the importance of support, recognition, and advocacy for all who have served.

To close the event, the ladies released balloons representing women veterans from each military branch and to honor and remember those women veterans who have been lost.

News From the Capitol

On Thursday, June 26, 2025, four legislators and three legislative staffers visited the Illinois Veterans' Home at Quincy (IVHQ) new skilled care building, which is nearing completion. The state-of-the-art, 251,000 square foot facility will provide skilled care for up to 210 veterans. The $310 M project is a federal and state partnership and is part of the State's Rebuild Illinois. Illinois will receive federal reimbursement for 67% of the total project costs.

IDVA is working diligently with the Illinois Capital Development Board (CDB), the Illinois Department of Public Health (IDPH), the Illinois Department of Innovation and Technology (DoIT), Veterans United Constructors, and other stakeholders in anticipation an October 2025 move-in.

During the visit, legislators toured the new facility, met with residents and staff, and spoke with IDVA Director Terry Prince about the agency and how it serves the 550,000 Illinois veterans.

U.S. Army 250th Birthday

The United States Army has been protecting our nation in peacetime and conflicts around the globe. Today is its 250th birthday, and the theme is "This we'll defend," - first used as a battle cry by the Continental Army. Today, it reminds us that our Army's purpose is clear - to fight and win the nation's wars.

IDVA is privileged to care for Army veterans in its five residential Veterans' Homes across the state. Many U.S. Army veterans have chosen to share their skills and dedication with their fellow veterans as part of Team IDVA. We are proud of our U.S. Army veterans and grateful for their service.

These are photos of some of the extraordinary IDVA employees who were either Active Duty at some point, served, or are currently serving in the Army Reserve, or in the Army National Guard.

In celebration of National Donut Day, The Salvation Army presented veterans at the Veterans' Home at Quincy with a Donut Day presentation, which included the history of Donut Day and music from The Salvation Army brass band. The State of Illinois VFW Auxiliary also provided donuts for the residents of the Home.

National Donut Day was established by The Salvation Army on the first Friday of June in 1938. This tradition honors the Salvation Army Donut Lassies, who provided donuts to soldiers on the front lines during World War I. The Salvation Army continued this tradition of comfort and care through World War II and beyond, ensuring that service members received a taste of home even in the toughest times.

U.S. Army veteran Paul Altgilbers danced with the Donut during the Salvation Army Donut Day.

World Elder Abuse Awareness Day

World Elder Abuse Awareness Day (WEAAD) was launched by the International Network for the Prevention of Elder Abuse and the World Health Organization at the United Nations. The purpose of WEAAD is to provide an opportunity for communities around the world to promote a better understanding of abuse and neglect of older persons by raising awareness of the cultural, social, economic, and demographic processes affecting elder abuse and neglect. The drum and bugle corps monument was placed alongside a marker commemorating the site of the Illinois Veterans' Home Hospital Annex. The Annex was designed in the shape of a horseshoe with porches gracing the second and third stories. It served as a sanctuary for veterans well into the mid-20th century. During the 1970s, the Horseshoe Building was decommissioned as a hospital and became the home of the Flying Dutchmen. It served as a storage location for the corps' equipment and their meeting place when leaving on tour, continuing the spirit of community and pride. The monument states, "May this site forever remind us of the dedication and sacrifice of those who served."
